SwiftStack

May 2016

Welcome to the SwiftStack Monthly Newsletter!

Hello,

Summer is approaching, and Spring has seen a great deal of growth at SwiftStack. From customer stories to new solutions with partners to new assets recorded at trade shows, this newsletter has plenty of new things to share. We are also doing our first contest, inspired by one of our customers sharing their experiences. Let us know what you think, and don't be shy about entering the contest yourself!

Respectfully,

Mario Blandini, VP of Marketing

Customers

We love sharing the success our customers have, as the community values this information more than virtually all other product information. Over the past 90 days, we have welcomed many customers, among whom include:

Also, you can learn more about how a few longer-term customers are leveraging SwiftStack:

Contest

One of our favorite case studies is Burton Snowboards. Learn how they leverage SwiftStack by checking out the presentation Jim Merritt gave at the OpenStack Summit in Austin, TX.

From now until June 3, you can enter to win your own Burton Process Snowboard! Even if you are not the lucky winner, you'll also have a chance to win 1 of 10 SwiftStack care packages, which includes a bunch of great stuff like a leather notebook and premium pen. All winners will be announced on June 6. Click here to learn how to enter!

Product Update

Metadata Search now available!

A few weeks ago, we announced SwiftStack 4.0 and noted that the highlighted features would be available in the next 90 days. One of those features, Metadata Search, is already available! Learn more by checking out this blog article and watching the demo video.

Cisco + SwiftStack Solution for Genomics

We've worked with the Metapod team at Cisco to put together a complete object storage solution leveraging Cisco UCS servers. To learn more, check out the solution guide at <https://www.swiftstack.com/cisco/>.
